Fashion Runway Show Returns to Kingston Featuring Local Clothiers and Designers

Kingston, NY 4/19/18

For the second year in a row, Kingston's historic waterfront will be transformed into a fashion runway featuring numerous local clothiers and designer apparel. Happening Sunday, June 10th starting at 4:30pm, TRENDS: The Runway Experience Fashion Show will take place at TR Gallo Park. Free and open to the public, the event will showcase women's and men's clothing and accessories from local Hudson Valley shops and designers.

The brainchild of Denise Glass, owner of Trends Hair Design salon on West Strand in Kingston, The Runway Experience is designed to celebrate the individual style of the Hudson Valley and showcase local businesses. This year's event will have exhibitions by several local clothing retailers including Next Boutique, DIG, KENCO, Oak 42, Hamilton & Adams, and more.

Speaking about the program, organizer Denise Glass said, "We are so excited to show so many wonderful local businesses. There is some great style to be found in the Hudson Valley and we are looking forward to exhibiting some of it!" Managing the runway and fashion will be John Mincarelli, professor at Marist College School of Fashion. Trends Hair Design will provide hair and makeup.

In addition to the runway, a pop-up marketplace will also be on location displaying and selling fashion accessories and clothing. And offering something for everyone, this year's event will have on display classic cars and hot rods by Jim Glass Corvette. The show is also a benefit for animals and the Hudson Valley Animal Rescue and Sanctuary, which will be on site showcasing animals for adoption and walking the runway.
